EFIS/IL Best Cited Paper Award

Description

The prize was established by the European Federation of Immunological Societies (EFIS) with general support from Immunology Letters, in order to recognize the best cited original paper within the first 3 years after its publication, published in Immunology Letters not earlier than 2005 and not later than March 1, 2012. The prize will be awarded triennially in combination with the European Congress of Immunology (ECI), for the first time during ECI 2012 in Glasgow.

This prize consists of a € 5,000 cash award plus invitation and support of the key author to attend the ECI 2012. The awardee must be prepared to present the work at the ECI 2012.

Selection process

The paper will be identified by the citation report system of ISI. The authors will be informed not later than May 31st, 2012. The authors have to nominate the key author who shall present the work at the ECI 2012. The nomination letter has to be signed by all co-authors and to be sent electronically to the EFIS coordinator hahner@efis.org and the EFIS secretary general: anna8erdei@gmail.com and a hard copy to:
